

Wiccan/Pagan Wedding Blessing

Laugh, and dance,
And drink the wine outpoured,
In the dear green earth,
Blessed by the Lady and the Lord.
May both be consecrated,
With the strength of the skies
With the brightness of the Moon,
And the warmth of the Sun.
With the splendour of fire
And the speed of lightning,
The depth of the sea,
The vigour of the wind,
The stability of the earth
And the endurance of rock.
Like fruit in the summer,
Your love is bursting forth.
United by the quarters:
East, South, West and North.
May your love grow without end,
As the sacred circle that is a wedding ring.
A symbol of the power
contained within your hearts.
A true relationship is patient and kind,
Generous and trusting,
And true love protects and perseveres,
Through each season of life.
Blessed be this union,
Today and every day,
May joy fill every room,
With sunlight or with rain.
